TROUT ARE DOOMED LA CROSSE READY FOR OPENING DAY

Trout Season Opens at Midnight and Scores Flock on Early Trains to Favorite Grounds Light-hearted

SEASON IS BEST IN YEARS

Five Big Trout Fishing Centers Send Communications That Streams Have Been Stocked with Fry

Scores of La Crosse sportsmen and many women are today applying oil to the inactive reel, making sure that the jointed poles are in shape and filling tackle boxes with the bait and ends that are dear to the heart of the fisherman. Tomorrow
"the stuff is off."

Trout season opens at midnight tonight, and there will probably not be a trout stream in the vicinity of La Crosse and for miles around the

Our Own Isaac Waltons.

Here are some La Crosse fishermen who already have left for the streams: Judge Leonard Kleeber, George W.
Hall, Albert Ross, Dr. E. A.
Gatterdam, George Young,
Jule Freas, George Rose,
Chris Tisdale, Bert A. Jol-lette, Alderman Charles Storand, Andrew Moser, Dr.
Ray Long, Edward Wheeler, David Sticker, Charles Wheeler, Andrew Roth, Clarence Kinney, Leslie Kinney, W. E. Barber, Carl Michel, country that will not have from half a dozen to fifty busy anglers out tomorrow. Preparations have been going on in La Crosse for a week.

Trout Prospects Are Good

Prospects for better fishing than La Crosse sportsmen have seen in several seasons are the predictions of the "granddaddies" of the trout fishing game this year. Official reports from five of the best trout fishing localities surrounding La Crosse, maintain that conditions are favorable.

The Wisconsin fish and game department placed hundreds of thousands of small trout in the streams
last fall in practically every stream of consequence in this vicinity.

Dispatches From the Front

SPARTA, Wis., April 14.—Beaver creek, Squaw creek, Rock creek, Silver creek, Tar creek and Big creek offer the best sport for the follower of the limber pole and the hook here. Of these, Big creek, flowing through Big Creek valley,
six miles west of Sparta; Tar creek,
five miles northeast of Sparta; Rock creek, just north of Sparta, and Beaver creek, are the best.

Big creek furnishes about ten miles of good sport, although a part of this distance is posted by the owners of adjoining land.

Most of the trout streams in the vicinity of Sparta were fed with small fish last year, and prospects are bright for one of the best seasons in some time.

The Rod and Gun club of Sparta, which has a large membership, has been doing much to promote the good fishing which exists in this vicinity.

Streams Near Viroqua.—Fishermen here are ready. The best of the many brooks which sportsmen have near here is Northwest Harrison branch, seven miles southeast of Viroqua. Coon creek is a favorite spot, running through the center of Coon Valley and situated on the La Crosse and Southeastern railroad.

Bishop branch, four miles southeast of here is another.

Brush Hollow creek, six miles east of Viroqua, furnishes good sport and is reported to be full of fish.

Sea's branch is six miles northeast of here, and Brush creek is on the Milwaukee between Cashton and Ontario.

Warner Creek, six miles southeast of Ontario is a favorite stream with the trout fishermen each year.

The Tamaracks Are Ready
TREMPEALEAU, Wis., April 14.—
What are known as the Big and the Little Tamaracks are the best trout streams in the vicinity of Trempealeau. Reports have it that the fishing there is better this year than for many seasons. They are located about ten miles north of here, running through hilly country, covered, for the most part by woods, mostly tamarack, from which they derive their names.

Tomah Sportsmen Restless
TOMAH, Wis., April 14.—Tomah is surrounded by several excellent trout streams in which 300,000 fry were placed last season. The best streams north of Tomah are Deer creek, one mile; Mud creek, two and one-half miles; Mill creek, ten

BRITISH CABINET PUTS PROHIBITION UP TO COMMONS

Asquith Announces That People's Representatives Must Decide the Question

THIS AND PEACE QUESTIONS ISSUES

Harcourt Says Britain Will Consult Colonies but Is Silent About Prospects for Early End of War

LONDON, April 14.—The British cabinet will take no action to prohibit the sale of intoxicating liquors.
After several conferences the ministry has decided to leave the liquor question to the people, through their representatives in the house of commons. Premier Asquith made this announcement today.

When parliament reassembled this afternoon the liquor question and rumors of an early peace were uppermost in the public mind. There were all sorts of rumors that Premier Asquith would have important announcements to make on both subjects.

The cabinet's position on the liquor question was quickly made known. Parliament had scarcely gone into session when a member queried the prime minister on the result of the recent liquor discussions. The premier replied that the ministry had reached the conclusion that the commons, and not the government, should decide a matter of vital interest to the British people.

In response to another query,
Colonial Secretary Harcourt intimated that the government would consult Canada and other self-governing colonies most fully when the time to discuss peace terms arrives. He had no observations to make regarding the probability of an early peace.

COUNTY WOLF PACK REDUCED BY THREE HIDES TELL TALE

Bounty of $24 was paid by Bert A. Jollette, county clerk, today for the hides of three wolf cubs, killed by Thomas Wadell, town of Burns farmer.

The total number of wolves killed in La Crosse county this season is seven, and several more have been captured just outside the county line.

What is thought to be the last large pack of prairie wolves in the county was located in Burns valley by Wadell and other farmers. When a hunt was started, the pack separated. Wadell is now of the opinion that there are only a few, if any wolves left.

BURGLARS ROB BANK

WATAGA, Ill., April 15.—Burglars early this morning blew the safe of the Bank of Wataga to pieces and escaped with one thousand dollars.

PEG LEGGED INDIAN AND WHITE SPOUSE FALL INTO RIVER

Stalwart Policemen Drag
Both to Safety and Souse Party Goes Home
Sober

Frank Whitewater, "peg-legged"
Indian, familiar about town, and Mrs.
Whitewater, or Ella Whipple (white), who live across the river, took the first bath of the season in the Mississippi yesterday. Incidentally they were nearly drowned and would have gone under had it not been for the kindly offices of three stalwart policemen who pulled them to safety.

Whitewater and his spouse got full of firewater. They got noisy and attracted the attention of the police. A patrol wagon, manned by Captain Dugan, Frank Wolf and Detective Fitzsimmons was sent out to "bring the redskin and his cargo in."

When they found the couple embarking in their boat to go home at the Holzhammer skiff ferry, the captain decided it was better so and allowed them to embark.

All would have gone well had Mrs.
Whitewater carried her "package" as well as her Indian husband. But it could not be. Whitewater sat down to the oars, but when his spouse got into the boat she fell overboard because as the police say, her load was all on one side. Whitewater stood up on his one leg to shout for help and then the boat capsized, throwing him into the water. Then the bluecoats came to the rescue.

Frank Wolf dragged the woman to the boom and pulled her in. Whitewater was seized by the stalwart captain and detective by his wooden leg, which floated on the surface. The couple resumed their voyage after they had dried out.

SUBMARINE WAR: GERMANS CAPTURING NEUTRAL STEAMER

GERMANS SHOOTING SHELLS AT BRITISH WITH U. S. LABEL

Shepherd Says Practice Began When American Military Attaches
Were Withdrawn

OBJECT OF RUSS IS NOT CLEAR

May Be Meant to Show the British Navy Has Not Cut Off Importation of Ammunition

NOTE.—William G. Shepherd, United Press staff correspondent, is the first American newspaperman who has been granted the privilege of visiting the British army in the field since Lord Kitchener's new army of a "million" was sent to the front. He is also the first American correspondent representing any individual American news organization, to be permitted to visit the British army in the field under official credentials. Frederick Palmer, who represents all American press organizations, under an agreement between them, was recently granted the privilege of filling identical stories to all press organizations here.

Press Copyrighted in Great Britain)

HEADQUARTERS OF THE BRIT-ISH ARMY, NORTHERN FRANCE,
April 14.—The Germans are firing shells marked "Made in the United States" against the British. They have been doing so ever since the American military attaches were withdrawn from Germany.

It is understood generally that the American attaches were withdrawn because the Germans were repeatedly calling to their attention the fact that the Russians were using American shells. The situation, therefore, became so embarrassing to the attaches with the German army that they found it necessary to leave.

Almost as soon as the attaches departed from Germany, British officers began to note that the Germans were using shells apparently of American manufacture. These bear the mark "R. Stock & Company."
There is a sufficiently large collection of these shells at British headquarters to establish the fact that the Germans possessed a considerable supply of them. Whether the Germans are using them so as to indicate to the English that their navy is not preventing the shipment of ammunition from the United States to Germany, or whether the intention is to create criticism of the United States in England, are questions yet unsolved.

NEW YORK, April 14.—At the offices of the Remington Arms and Ammunition company here, it was stated positively this afternoon that there is no American firm of ammunition manufacturers named "R.
Stock & Company."

CHINA APPEALS TO U. S. TO SAVE HER FROM JAPAN

WASHINGTON, April 14.—
Minister Reinsch, reporting from Peking today, was understood to have said China has rejected Japan's main demands and asked America's good offices to prevent Japan from pressing them, as they would shut the "open door."

GERMANY TO BACK BERNSTORFF NOTE

Unofficial Word Is That the Foreign Office Is in Sympathy with Charge U. S.
Violates Neutrality

WILSON HIMSELF PREPARES REPLY

Cabinet Officials Say It Will Show That U. S.
Considers German Attitude Unfriendly

WASHINGTON, April 14.—The German foreign office is expected to assume full responsibility for Ambassador Von Bernstorff's note accusing the United States of violating the spirit of neutrality. Unofficial dispatches reaching the state department indicated this today. Ambassador Gerard's report had not arrived, so President Wilson has directed that officials refrain from comment.

Because the charges affect American integrity, the president himself will prepare the reply.

It is not expected that the answer will characterize the German protest as an "unfriendly utterance," but cabinet officials familiar with the matter say it will show by the plainness with which the German contents will be refuted that this is exactly the interpretation the president and his advisers have placed upon it.

Until Ambassador Gerard has completed his inquiries, however,
the United States cannot act.

GERMANY DENIES NAVAL BATTLE IN THE NORTH SEA

COPENHAGEN, April 14.—The German admiralty has officially denied reports that the German fleet has been engaged with British warships in the North sea, according to a Berlin message today to the Ven-ska Tageblatt.

HUERTA DENIES HE LEFT BY REQUEST

NEW YORK, April 14.—General Victoriano Huerta, former dictator of Mexico, this afternoon vigorously denied reports that he had fled Madrid to escape infuriated mobs.
Huerta branded untrue the story of the Spanish government requesting him to leave to prevent embarrassing complications.

VIENNA REPORT OF SUCCESS DENIED BY RUSS STORIES

Conflicting Tales Leave the Status of Carpathian Engagement in Doubt

VIENNA CLAIMS LINE BROKEN

Russians Announce That Right Wing Has Penetrated Ten Miles Into Hungary

Conflicting advices from Vienna and Petrograd leave the status of the battle of the Carpathian passes in doubt today. Vienna officially reports that the Slav offensive has been checked and that the Russian line has broken in several places. Petrograd claims a ten mile advance into Hungary by the right wing, and advantage of position allowing a blow for the railway leading south through the Lupkow pass.

Vienna's Statement

WASHINGTON, April 14.—An official war office bulletin from Vienna received by the Austro-Hungarian embassy here late yesterday, said the Russian offensive in the Carpathians had been brought to a standstill
and that counter-attacks had broken the Russian line in several places.

Russian Version

PETROGRAD, April 14.—The Russian right wing in the Carpathians has advanced ten miles into Hungary in the last few days of fighting and is now in position to strike at the railway leading south through the Lupkow pass, according to dispatches to the war office today.

The Slav advance in this region has again been halted, pending the outcome of the fierce struggle for the Uzok Pass. To the north, the Germans are pressing nearer the Russian positions in Poland, particularly north of the Vistula. Fighting is going on north of Bukovina. At nearly every sector of the 300 mile battle front the opposing armies are again in clash.

Eight miles to the east of the Russian army on the right wing is the important railway leading south through Mezo Labore into the heart of Hungary. By an eight mile advance over the Hungarian plain the Slavs could seize the railway and force the Austrian army of General Borisevitch to retire eastward in the direction of Uzok. But further progress south of the Duka, without a decisive victory at the Uzok pass, would endanger the Slav lines of communication.

Terrific fighting is going on in the Uzok region where the mountain passes are still clogged with snow.
Whole companies have perished by marching off steep precipices masked by the snow.

BLIND PIANIST WINS

DETROIT, Mich., April 14.—John Alexander Meldrum, 20, of Ann Arbor, blind from birth, won first place in the competition of Michigan pianists for a selection to appear on the American day program in the ninth biennial festival of the National Federation of Musical clubs, to be held in Los Angeles June 24 to July 2.

STATE INSPECTOR DROPS INTO TOWN TO RAP PLUMBING

He Draws Suggested Ordinance for Presentation to Council and Asks Competent Inspection

WORK DECLARED INSANITARY

Certain Shops Are Praised but Others Are Called "Indifferent" and Jobs Are Skipped

Frank R. King, state plumbing inspector, sent here by the State Board of Health to look into sanitary conditions in public and private buildings, after spending the day here investigating conditions, was so disgusted with some of the plumbing
he found that he sat down and wrote a draft of a plumbing inspectorship ordinance which he left with aldermen with a recommendation for immediate passage.

"There are some good shops in this town that turn out fine work,
use first class material and workmanship and do sanitary workmanship," said Mr. King to The Tribune.
"But I found much other work that was indifferent and bad, not sanitary and a menace to health.
Piping has been used of light weight and appliances of weight and design that cannot possibly be sanitary."

"I have been unable to find any ordinance in La Crosse which provides for inspection of plumbing," said Mr. King. "It is one of the most important duties of the city.
My ordinance has been left with the city attorney and certain aldermen and although it is a mere suggestion, I am told it will be presented to the city council."

Mr. King's ordinance provides for the appointment of a competent plumber to pass on all jobs of plum-ing in La Crosse.

NELSON FUNERAL FRIDAY.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., April 14.—
The funeral of W. R. Nelson, editor and owner of the Kansas City Star, will be held at his home Friday afternoon. Bishop Mann of the Protestant Episcopal church of Florida, an intimate friend of the colonel, will conduct the service.

Among the messages of condolence which began pouring into the Star offices and the family were telegrams from President and former President William H. Taft.

RELIEF FUND DWINDLES

DENVER, Col., April 14.—With nearly two thousand miners doing state highway work and receiving pay from the $100,000 relief fund
given by the Rockefeller foundation, the gift is rapidly disappearing today. Before the close of April it will be up to the state or county authorities to supply funds to save the miners from relapsing again into a condition of virtual starvation.

WOMEN WANT BREAD IN PAPER WRAPPER UNTOUCHED BY HAND

Twentieth Century Club
Asks Council to Compel Bakers to Protect Product Against Impurities

That the bakers of La Crosse be required to encase each separate loaf of bread in a wrapper before placing it on the market, is the intent of a petition which will be presented to the common council at its next meeting. The petition is contained in a resolution adopted at a meeting of the Twentieth Century club yesterday afternoon, presented by Mrs.
W. E. Barber.

The petition asserts that "bread sold by the bakers is handled without wrapping, passing through many hands under conditions that make cleanliness not always possible" and that this practice "is unsanitary and as a means of conveying disease is a menace to the public health."

Officers Are Elected

The club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Hanks, 312 Cass street, and was entertained by Mrs. Hanks and Mrs. W. T.
Sadler. The annual election resulted in the following officers being chosen:

President—Mrs. Lillie Finch.
First vice-president—Mrs. C. F.
Emory.
Second vice-president—Mrs. J. A.
L. Bradfield.
Record secretary—Miss Lena Gelatt.

Corresponding secretary—Mrs. G.
H. Bretzner.
Treasurer—Mrs. Agnes Vincent.
Auditor—Mrs. B. C. Smith.
Member at large—Mrs. Emma Law.

Music was provided at the meeting yesterday by Mrs. Robert Whep-pley, who gave several selections, accompanied by Mrs. Harry Curtiss.
Mrs. J. A. L. Bradfield read a paper on the life of George Eliot, also reading selections from that author's writings.

CLUB WOMEN START BIG CLEANING UP FOR WHOLE CITY

Next Week Designated as "Clean-up and Paint-up Week;" Boys Are Inspectors

HEALTH NOTICES ARE ISSUED

Department to Compel Removal of All Ashes, Rubbish and Unightly
Refuse

La Crosse is to have a cleaning that will make it look like the proverbial "Spotless town." Every bit of rubbish, all tin cans, all of the ashes that have accumulated during the winter and everything of an unsightly, unsanitary or useless nature is to go. Then the whole town is to have a coat of paint.

This is the manifesto which has been issued by the ladies of the Twentieth Century club who met last night and have taken up the matter with Dr. Furstman, city health officer and officials of the Boy Scouts organizations.

April 19 to 26 has been set aside as "Clean-up Week," by the city authorities. Mayor Sorensen is now preparing a proclamation designating the day which will be issued probably tomorrow.

Scouts Are Sanitary Inspectors

Every boy scout patrol leader was today appointed a sanitary inspector
by Health Commissioner Furstman and every scout in La Crosse will go out next Friday and Saturday with official "clean-up" notices issued by the health department ordering all refuse in La Crosse cleaned up.

The scouts will report unsightly places to the scout masters who will inspect the premises and serve the notices. In case these are unheeded they will report the owner's names to the health department which will compel the work to be done.

Thousands of notices were printed for the health department today.
They read as follows:

"OFFICIAL CLEAN-UP NOTICE"

"To Owners and Occupants of Lots
You are hereby notified to clean up and haul away all refuse, rubbish, ashes and cinders from your yards and alleys according to Ordinance
No. 400. Refusal to comply with this notice will necessitate the city to remove the same and charge costs to abutting properties. The following named places are public dumping grounds:

"North Side, Monitor street, on Causeway.
"South Side, Foot of Market street.

"The dumping and spreading of ashes or cinders in streets or alleys is strictly prohibited by law.

"You are also required to maintain a regular garbage can—one that is water tight and provided with a tight cover—and to keep same in good repair. The health department intends to enforce this ordinance and hope to get the co-operation of the public and avoid any trouble.
The state law requires all manure to be kept in fly tight boxes.

"By order of
"HEALTH DEPARTMENT."

BRITISH EXPLODE MINE

LONDON, April 14.—British troops exploded a mine near Arras, killing 29 Germans, according to an official report from Gen. French, covering the operations in the past week. The Germans twice attempted a similar feat, the British commander reported, but without effecting any damage. On the whole, the situation along the British front is unchanged.

WHAT NEURASTHENIA IS

Neurasthenia is a condition of exhaustion of the nervous system. The causes are varied. Continuous work, mental or physical, without proper vacation periods, without proper attention to diet and exercise, also worry over the struggle for success, are the most common causes. Excesses of almost any kind may produce it. Some diseases, like the grip, will cause neurasthenia. So also will a severe shock, intense anxiety or grief.

The symptoms are over-sensitiveness, irritability, a disposition to worry over trifles, headache, possibly nausea.

The treatment is one of nutrition of the nerve cells, requiring a non-alcoholic tonic. As the nerves get their nourishment from the blood the treatment must be directed toward building up the blood. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood and with proper regulation of the diet have proved of the greatest benefit in many cases of neurasthenia. A tendency to anemia, or bloodlessness, shown by most neurasthenic patients, is also corrected by these tonic pills. Your own druggist sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Two useful books "Diseases of the Nervous System" and "What to Eat and How to Eat" will be sent free by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y., if you mention this paper.

CORRUPT PRACTICE ACT IS SUSTAINED

Main Features of Law Are Approved by the Supreme Court of the State

MADISON, Wis., April 14.—The corrupt practice act was sustained as to its main features by the supreme court this morning in a case of Schumacher vs. Markham. The clause which denies a jury trial as to issues of fact is held invalid.

The case arose out of an action by C. A. Markham, a taxpayer, to try title of J. J. Schumacher to the office of district attorney.

It was charged that he had violated the sections of the act prohibiting the purchase of intoxicating liquors, cigars and meals by candidates. The defendant demurred on the ground that there was no cause of action, because the corrupt practices act was void.

The lower court sustained the demurrer and the supreme court reversed it.

Combing Won't Rid Hair Of Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning most, if not all, of your dandruff will be gone, and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.

Ancient Writing Implements.

BETHLEHEM STEEL SOARS AND DIVES

NEW YORK, April 14.—In a sudden burst of trading Bethlehem Steel again furnished a sensational flurry this afternoon. Heavy trading carried the stock to 154, from which it receded to 150, but quickly climbed again until it reached 155, the high mark for the day. Just before the close there came a sharp break in which Bethlehem sold down to 123, rallied slightly and closed at 125. Others stocks generally held up well.

PUBLIC OPINION AS A WAR-MAKER

Who makes the wars?

It is a common generalization in this democratic country of ours to say that kings and diplomats are to blame for conflicts between nation and nation. But like many other sayings which seek to dispose of broad questions in a few words comprehensible to the idle-minded, it does not exhaust all the possibilities of its subject.

It is easy to set down a war as caused by a group of autocrats scheming in secret against another group of autocrats in terms of trade advantage and national prestige, and calling at the last for the sons of the people to prove their plots with lives.
It is a tangible conception, much in favor because it can be understood without effort. Probably it is largely true, but there are other ingredients in the war-brew which are important factors in the result. The theory that kings and diplomats are to blame ignores a contributing cause that has from time to time demonstrated that beside it the plans of kings and designs of merchant princes are insignificant. It takes no account of public opinion, although there has been no war declared in modern times which was not the culmination of popular sentiment against the nation at which the blow was aimed.

It is true that governments exercise a great measure of control over public opinion through the universal sentiment of patriotism, and that in this way rulers are deeply responsible for wars. But public opinion, sometimes easily molded, is docile within limits. When it takes the bit between its teeth it will have its head, and kings and cabinets can saw on the reins in vain.
The present European war furnishes a number of examples. If indications and the judgment of experienced politicians are to be believed, the Balkan states of Greece, Bulgaria and Rumania will get into the general conflict, and that before many weeks. They will fight, if they fight, over the wishes of their rulers,

for the monarchs are all allied dynastically to the Austro-German houses. The wife of King Constantine of Greece is a sister of the kaiser.
King Ferdinand of Rumania is a German and a Hohenzollern. Czar Ferdinand of Bulgaria belongs to the house of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha and is also a Hungarian nobleman. The wives of both are German.

In Italy, a war party with strong public support has brought the country to the brink of war with Austria and Germany despite every effort of a "neutrality" cabinet.

In this country we have had a demonstration of the power of public sentiment in the explosion which swept the country into war with Spain following the destruction of the Maine.

On the other hand public sentiment is as powerful to keep the peace
as to make war. American jingoes have been preaching war with Japan
ever since the peace at Portsmouth, but repeated differences have been settled by diplomacy instead of arms because the great body of Americans refuses to take the Hobsons seriously.

Secret diplomacy is a great evil and its passing would go far toward ending war, but more would be accomplished by general public appreciation of the fact that war is waste and destruction, and that its honor and glory are but names.

CONCERNING THE GOVERNOR'S PROGRAM

From two aspects, the talk about Governor Philipp's program of reducing and consolidating our ridiculously overmanned, expensive and top-heavy bureaucratic apparatus of boards and commissions as a scheme to put those bodies "into politics" is nonsense on the face of it.

In the first place, most of those bodies are already "in politics."
And, in the second place, if it were the governor's wish to put them into another kind of politics, or in other words to exploit them for the gradual reconstruction of a great new political machine, he would hardly proceed to reduce them in point of number and membership to the lowest point compatible with efficiency for public service.—The Sentinel.

Bosh! The political game is to dodge the civil service. As at present constituted the boards and commissions are manned with officials and employees under civil service.
To remove them and name reactionaries is impossible. The thing sought is to get rid of them in a body, to make way for the wheels and cogs in the new political machine. This can only be accomplished by a wholesale abolition of offices, the creation of offices to take their place and the appointment of a new force of state workers throughout.

We credit the governor with honestly desiring to save a little money through the metamorphosis, but he will fail of signal success. A certain amount of work is to be done, and it requires the services of a pretty arbitrarily fixed number of people. The shift from which to tother will,
at best, save a negligible sum. Startling with the foundation fact that less than eight per cent of all taxes are state taxes, the shavings that will fall from the Philipps planer will be too thin to be seen edgewise. Like the "short session," the "retrenchment" pledge already has passed into the realm of things unachieved and to be explained.

With due regard for national pastime, we refuse to let any baseball player select our smoking tobacco.

A man doesn't give himself any the worst of it when he tells a woman
the story of his life.

Some of the latest dances are so late they really should be subjected

Quips and Cranks and Wanton Wiles

A Creed

Faith in him who calls me friend.
Faith in what is sweet and clean;
Faith that just around the bend
All is peaceful and serene,
Faith that after care and strife
Come the happy days of rest.
Faith that everything in life
Really happens for the best.

This my faith and this my shield
Against the arrows of distrust;
Much of justice is concealed
In what seems a dismal way.
Now what seems a dismal way
That alone I'm forced to tread
I may come to see some day
Is a glorious path instead.

Undisturbed by petty wrongs, Undismayed by what is mean, Though the false attracts the throngs,
Though the multitude's unclean,
Though at times I stand alone,
Though I'm oft misunderstood,
Faith I still would keep and own
In the decent and the good.

Retort Not Report

The life of a police record clerk is not devoid of smiles. For instance, this:
"Hello!"
"Yes."
"Say, my neighbor had all his chickens stolen last night!"
"How many?"
"Oh, I don't know!"
"Well, what were they in?"
"Why, a shed or"—(Off the telephone voice) "Say, Mame, what was it they had 'em in?—Yes, a chicken coop painted white."
"You want to make a report of these chickens being stolen?"
"No, I'll let him do that."
"Well" (impatiently), "what do you want?"
"Why, I just wanted to tell you,
if the officers catch that chicken thief, give him my thanks!"

Merely a Hint

Several members of a woman's club were chatting with a little daughter of their hostess.
"I suppose you are a great help to your mamma," said one.
"Oh, yes," replied the little miss,
"and so is Ethel; but it is my turn to count the spoons today after the company is gone."

Traces Obliterated

Into Mr. Toddles' study marched the detective.
"You sent for me, I understand,"
said he gravely, "to investigate a burglary that was committed here last night."
"Of course I did! Of course—of course!" fussed Mr. Toddles.
"What is missing?"
"Several odds and ends, and three complete sets of harness—brand new, too!"
"Ah!" murmured the detective, making a note in his little book. "And have you any idea how many thieves were in this robbery? Did the thief or thieves leave any clue—any traces behind them?"
"Traces—traces!" said Mr. Tod-dles. "No; they took those, too!"— Answers.

Maud—I said to Jack that I wasn't going to return his ring until I got one from another man.
Ethel—He told me he never expected to get it back.

Under Fire, but—

She—Tell me; when you were in the trenches were you cool in the hour of danger?
He—Cool? Why, I shivered.—London Opinion.

Tough for the Client

The judge was a kindly old fellow,
and the young barrister was nervous.
"My unfortunate client—" he began, in a quaking voice and a dry throat, then stopped.
Fumbling among his papers with a trembling hand, he began again.
"My unfortunate client—" But his throat dried up.
Desperately mopping his brow with a handkerchief, he made another attempt.
"My unfortunate client—" But it was no good.
The judge, smiling down at him
in a kindly way, said:
"You may proceed with your statement, Mr. Blank. The court, so far, is in entire agreement with you."—Louisville Herald.

Anxious to Please

ma'am—I ain't seen a finer. And bless ye, I been gardening for twenty years at the reformatory round here, too!"—The Cartoon.

THE RED MIRAGE

By I. A. R. WYLIE

Author of "The Native Born, The Daughter of Brahma, Etc."
Copyright The Lobbo-Merrill Company.

She went on alone, walking in the center of the grove where the light was strongest and humming softly
to herself, like a confident child whose momentary fear is passed and forgotten. Colonel Destinn heard her coming. He was still seated where Gabrielle had left him, smoking tranquilly, and the dull glow of his cigarette lighted up an enigmatical composure. Neither pleasure nor triumph had their place in those set features, but something else—the suggestion of an incalculable force under the heel of an incalculable will.

Sylvia Arnaud came out into the clearing. She was still singing—a little louder than before, as if in defiance of a reawakening dread—and in the sudden hush her voice sounded luringly sweet.

"Viens pris de moi, viens plus pris encore,
Mon amour t'appelle—"

The passing shadow stopped midway between darkness and darkness.
The light was on them both. There was a smothered exclamation. A revolver-shot rang out and all was quiet again. It was as though nothing had happened. A faint uncertain smile still quivered at the corners of Sylvia Arnaud's mouth. The last echo of her song hung like a broken web of fancy in the vibrating air.
Neither of the three figures moved.
Then slowly, almost deliberately,
the man standing against the light let go his hold upon the half-raised rifle and, turning, sank together into a limp piteous heap. Colonel Destinn raced across the intervening space.
His indifference was gone. He cursed somerly.

"The insolent devils—one of my ruffians—one of my ruffians—name of God."

He lifted the unconscious head against his shoulder, his experienced hands wrenching open the breast of the heavy military coat. Sylvia Arnaud crept up to him. Her face was ashy and expressionless, like that of a sleep-walker. He waved her impatiently aside.

"Don't stay here. There may be some more of them. As you value your life, run back to the villa and give the alarm. Ah!" He sprang to his feet instinctively, placing his body between her and the three men who had started out of the darkness. His hand had flown to his pocket. "Who goes there?"

"The patrol, my Colonel."
"Gee—you?" A sharp sigh of relief broke from between his set teeth. Then he drew himself up. The red-hot rage froze to a deadly precision. "How did you come here?"

"We were warned, my Colonel."
"By whom?"
"By a lady."
"You heard that shot. You came from the same direction. Did you see no one?"

"Yes, my Colonel."
"And did you not lay hands on him?"
"My Colonel, it was beyond my duty."
"You mean—you were afraid of a single skulking Arab?"
"My Colonel, it was no Arab."
"Who then?"
"Captain Arnaud," he said.

CHAPTER XI.

Justification.

Colonel Destinn bent over the map spread out before him in an attitude of concentrated attention. It was an unusual-looking map, roughly outlined and almost destitute of the ordinary network of mountains and rivers. At the top a single town had been marked, and from thence downward there ran a dark red line, almost undeviating, which cut the upper part of the white linen in two distinct halves. On either side of this line there were towns marked and the beginning of waterways, but in no instance did these extend beyond an inch on either hand. It was as though the red line had absorbed everything, and that what lay beyond its immediate radius was of no account, a blank white waste of depopulated country. The lower part of the map had been painted yellow and there the red line faltered and broke off. Colonel Destinn's pencil hovered over the jagged end, and his brows were knitted into an expression of thwarted impatience. On the other side of the table an elderly man wearing the uniform of a French army doctor sat and stroked his neatly trimmed beard with a reflective hand. From time to time he glanced doubtfully at his companion,
and at last, receiving no attention,
gave vent to an apologetic cough.

"I am afraid I have come at an in-opportune moment," he said. "You are busy. The matter is of really no importance."

Destinn started and looked up.
"Pardon me. I was absorbed in a difficult calculation. You are mistaken. The matter is of importance.
Life is no doubt cheap out here, but economy has to be practiced even in cheap things. Besides, order has been established in Sidi-bel-Abbes,
and any act of wanton aggression
must be punished with a hard hand.
You say the bullet has been extracted?"

"Yes."
"Did it suggest anything to you?"
The doctor shrugged his shoulders. His small brown eyes had shifted from the colonel's face to the floor.

"It forced me to the conclusion that the assailant was in possession of an army revolver—stolen, without doubt."

"Without doubt," Colonel Destinn agreed. "The man is doing well?"
"As well as can be expected. There was considerable loss of blood following on the extraction. Also fever."

"Next week I am taking a fresh batch with me down south to the present terminus. Will our English friend be in a fit state to bear us company?"

"Undoubtedly—if he is not sent back to his regiment for the present. Otherwise—" His expression was significant.

At that moment Captain Arnaud entered and he got up stiffly. Des-tinn glanced over his shoulder.

"Ah, good morning! Well, I shall not detain you any longer, Doctor.
In the course of the day I may have a look at the sufferer, and I shall then give further orders. The culprit you can leave to me. Sit down, won't you, Arnaud?"

The younger officer remained standing. He returned the doctor's greeting mechanically and his features were blank. As the door closed Colonel Destinn threw down his pencil and their eyes met.

"Sit down."
This time Arnaud obeyed. The elder man bent forward with his chin resting on his hand.

"In the ordinary course of events
I should have had you arrested last night," he said. "If I did not do so it was because there was something unusual in the case that interested me. Even in the Legion madness has its method. A man in your position does not go out of his way to shoot down a poor harmless devil without reason. You had a reason and I wish to know it."

"For God's sake, don't jest with me! Do what you mean to do and have mercy enough not to turn this business into a burlesque. If it is a confession you want—"

Destinn rose, and his heavy fist rested clenched on the table.

DOCTOR OPERATES ON SELF—SAVES SIGHT AND REASON

CHICAGO, April 14.—Dr.
Walter F. Paullly, Kahoka, Mo., physician, has saved his sight and his reason by virtue of a unique operation.

While treating a woman patient Dr. Paullly was struck in the eye and a blood vessel in his brain was broken. He groped his way to an instrument case,
made an incision over the eye,
and drilled a hole through his skull to let the blood out. That was five weeks ago. Today the physician's sight in the injured eye is merely weakened.

Whys" of Moves in European War

(BY J. W. T. MASON)

NEW YORK, April 14.—The Russians are attempting to develop a new offensive in Bukovina, despite the fact that their campaign in the Carpathians is still in a critical stage and even if won must be followed by the concentration of additional men for an advance through Hungary. The first intimation that the Slavs have returned to the Austro-Hungarian crown land is contained in an official Vienna statement that heavy artillery engagements are proceeding in Bukovina and in southeastern Galicia as well.

This circumstance contains elements of mystery. The only certain deduction is that the initiative in the new movement must have been taken by the Slavs. They were recently driven out of Bukovina and southeastern Galicia and forced to retire into the Russian province of Bessarabia. Now they have returned and are trying to recover their lost ground in the extreme southeastern district of the battle line.

There are three possible reasons to account for this sudden military activity.

First, the Austro-Germans in Bukovina may have been compelled to weaken their Bukovina line in order to send reinforcements to the central Carpathians. In this case, the Russians may have concluded an excellent opportunity existed for regaining a foothold in Bukovina at small cost. Second, the Russian general staff may have determined that the central Carpathian passes were invulnerable and may have ordered a new effort to break through the mountains in southern Bukovina. This was the line of advance of the second Russian effort to reach

Budapest which failed during the winter.

The third possible cause of the Bukovina fighting is the inability of the Slavs to concentrate for any length of time on a single objective. This is the most probable reason of all. The fighting in the central Carpathians has been proceeding for about a month. The Austrians and Germans have been forced to abandon their advance lines on the Galician side of the mountains, but they have not been driven clear of the passes. None of the passes through which railways run is yet in full possession of the Russians.

Under these circumstances the lack of persistence, which is so grave a military fault with the Slavs, can almost inevitably be counted upon to make itself felt. There was much encouragement to Russia's western allies when the Przemysl army was sent to the Carpathians, instead of being used for an isolated adventure toward Cracow. It must have been felt at London and Paris that the Russians at last were learning how to concentrate their forces for a main offensive instead of dividing their masses into impotent units.

Now, however, the news from Bukovina will probably cast gloom over the British and French governments. It seems to suggest even under the most favorable criticism that the Russians either are tiring of the attack in the Carpathians, or are once more beginning to ramble.

GERMANY DECLARES BRITISH WHEAT SHORT

BERLIN, via Wireless to Sayville, L. I., April 14.—The newspaper Vossische Zeitung today quoted figures said to have been taken from English commercial papers to prove the success of the German submarine blockade of the British Isles on April 1, 1915, according to the table prepared by the newspaper, the supply of wheat at Liverpool was only 1,896,000 bushels, compared with a supply of 3,280,000 bushels on the same day one year ago.

FISHERIES BOAT ON SUMMER WORK

Steamer Curlew and Crew to Start Rescuing Landlocked Fish in Two Weeks

Plans for the annual spring trip by the government fisheries boat "Curlew" are being made by Captain Hugo Crasser, who today said that the boat will weigh anchor inside of two weeks.

Some one hundred thousand brook and rainbow trout fry, hatched out during the last two months at the government hatchery at Copeland park, will be carried on the boat to be planted in neighboring springs and distributed among fishing enthusiasts up and down the Mississippi river for individual planting.

The remaining one hundred thousand fry will be kept at the station to be handed out to members of the La Crosse County Hunting and Fishing association who will plant them in trout streams of the vicinity, especially in the neighborhood of West Salem, Bangor, Rockland and Sparta. The work will be done as soon as the water is lowered sufficiently to insure that the tiny fish would not be swept into the larger rivers and lost.

Busy Rescue Season is on. The present high stage of the Mississippi and Black rivers forecasts a busy rescue season for the boat "Curlew" and her crew. The work of seining sloughs tributary to the Mississippi for the reclamation of fish swept there by the high water will be begun some time next month, or as soon as the water has dropped to its normal level. Last year the work was started late in June, but indications now are that the river will recede sooner than it did last year.

NORTH SIDE BOY IS BADLY BRUISED BY MOTORCYCLE

William Hasselbusch, North Salem road dairyman, sustained painful injuries about the face and head last night in an accident in which he was thrown over the handle bars of his motorcycle when he stopped abruptly to avoid collision with George French, nine year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. French, 1345 Avon street. His injuries are not serious.

The accident occurred at the corner of Caledonia and Logan streets at nine o'clock. The French boy, who is slightly deaf, did not hear the warning signal of the machine and walked directly in front of it. Hasselbusch stopped the motorcycle so suddenly that he was hurled over the handle bars.

The collision was inevitable. The boy was thrown to the pavement and bruised about the head and face. He was not dangerously hurt. The police hold Hasselbusch blameless.

The woman, who wants to vote should be able to sharpen a pencil with which to mark her ballot.

BRITISH CREW TRIED TO ESCAPE FROM SHIP SUNK BY KRONPRINZ

NEWPORT NEWS, Va., April 14.—When the German converted cruiser Kronprinz Wilhelm destroyed the British ship Tamar, the latter's crew, unwilling to go on board the raider as prisoners, tried to escape. It was learned today from the Wilhelm's officers.

Pernambuco was only 150 miles away and the British could have reached it safely, it was agreed. While the Germans were preparing to sink the Tamar, however, they discovered that their prisoners had swung their boats out-board and were getting into them, whereupon they were quickly bundled into the Wilhelm, under guard.

It came to light also today that the British ship Bellevue was held alongside the Wilhelm for sixteen days, while the former "picked its bones," the loot including 4,000 tons of coal, 1,100 cases of whiskey, and several yoke of prize oxen, on their way to South America.

The work of stripping the Bellevue was interrupted while the Wilhelm ran down the French steamship Mount Agel and sank it by ramming.

Secretary Daniels today sent orders to Norfolk for the same board of naval experts who examined the Prinz Eitel Friedrich to examine the

STATE MUST TAKE BUTTER SAFEGUARD SAYS MR. DUFUER

"While the best of Wisconsin butter cannot be excelled in the United States, seventy per cent of the entire output is termed 'inferior,' by eastern commission men," said S. J. Dufner, dairy inspector today, working under the new state dairy and food commissioner, George J. Weigle. He was one of the witnesses who secured the conviction of Oscar Kramer, milk dealer, for selling unclean milk.

"The state creamery department has inaugurated a strenuous campaign for the improvement of Wisconsin creamery butter," continued Mr. Dufner. "Eastern commission houses are beginning to look for quality. The loss of many millions of dollars annually will result unless steps are taken to improve."

Mr. Dufner pointed out a few simple conditions which are complied with, he said, will insure a strictly high grade.

These, he said, are cleanliness, low temperatures, and frequent delivery of cream to the creamery.

TO REFLOAT LINER TODAY
SEATTLE, Wash., April 14.—The $4,000,000 Great Northern liner Minnesota would be floated today, it was stated at the company's offices here today, following the receipt of cables from the scene of the steamship's accident on a rock in the inland sea of Japan. Since the Minnesota went aground Sunday night, her 191 passengers have been transferred to Kobe, Japan, and her ten airtight compartments have buoyed her up despite two great rents in her steel hull. It was planned today to shift the Minnesota's cargo of manila hemp from the forward compartment to the stern, in hopes that the nose of the great hull would be lifted up to make refloating easier.

COURT RECONSIDERS LONG PRISON TERM OF ERRING COUPLE

Mrs. Frank Allendorf and Charles Walker Get New Trial and Twenty-five Dollar Fines

Mrs. Frank Allendorf, La Crosse, and Charles Walker, Hustler, Wis., are not on their way to state's prison today, as was contemplated by the fifteen month sentences imposed upon them yesterday by Judge John Brindley. Each pleaded guilty to minor charges today when the case was reopened and they were released upon the payment of fines of $25 each.

The case was opened this morning when District Attorney Otto M. Schlachach recommended the court to act upon the appeal of Attorney J. E. Higbee, appearing for both convicted parties.

Attorney Higbee said that Mrs. Allendorf and Walker had been "talked" into pleading guilty by police patrolmen, who, he said, had promised them sentences of "ten days" each.

Mrs. Allendorf said she was the mother of a two year old infant, and that at times, she had been without sufficient food for days at a time, and that she was forced to seek means of support.

"I reconsidered the matter after extenuating evidence was brought to light," said District Attorney Schlachach.

"The exact facts of the matter will not be made public," he said, "but they have a material bearing upon the case."

DEATH URGED FOR FOUR VICE BILLS

Three Are Recommended for Passage; Chiropractic and Optometry Bills Slated for Death

MADISON, Wis., April 14.—The senate committee on education and public welfare recommended four of the vice commission bills for slaughter, and three for passage with amendments.

Bills raising the age of consent to 18 years; preventing females under 21 from frequenting saloons or dance halls run in connection with them unless accompanied by husband, mother or father; and strengthening the statute against pandering, were favorably recommended.

The committee also recommended the bills creating boards of optometry and chiropractic for indefinite postponement.

The substitute provides for the creation of a county board committee on school districts, appointed by the chairman of the county board, which is to absorb most of the functions of the present county board of education.

A new scale of minimum salaries for county superintendents is provided as follows:

In counties having from 125 to 200 school districts, $1,400.

Frank Chopieska, former shoemaker at the La Crosse Rubber mills and president of the Rubber Workers' union, was this afternoon arraigned in county court charged by Charles Vibbard and Frank Nettwell with assault and battery. Nettwell and Vibbard consented to consolidate the charges into one complaint.

Chopieska is accused of attacking Nettwell and Vibbard while they were on their way to work at the rubber mills early in the morning. Nettwell was taken to the Lutheran hospital, slight wounds dressed and released. Vibbard was not dangerously injured.

ALDERMEN FIND NORTH SIDE PUPILS LACKING SPACE

North side schools were visited and inspected by a majority of the members of the common council yesterday. Superintendent L. P. Benetz accompanied them. Conditions as to a shortage of school room space in the north side schools were found by the aldermen to be as represented by the board of education.

Statistics presented to the aldermen by Superintendent Benetz showed that the north side now has 164 pupils in the seventh and eighth grades. By February, Mr. Benetz told the committee, this number will be increased to 225. He declared that if the seventh, eighth and ninth grades were to be assembled in the proposed junior high school, the school would open with an enrollment of 287, without counting the first year high school pupils who would enroll from the parochial schools.

FOREIGN MARKETS

New York Stocks

NEW YORK, April 14.—Stock prices generally showed increases all along the line at the opening of the market today. Bethlehem Steel common, the sensation of yesterday's market, showed a gain of three and four points in early sales, selling at 128 and 129.

After fifteen minutes of selling Bethlehem jumped up to 145, an increase of twenty over yesterday's close. At the opening there was a rush to recover stocks by those who had been scared by the violent break in Bethlehem late yesterday. Trading was unusually active. United States Steel opened at 56 and advanced to 56 1/2, a gain of 1/2 on Tuesday's close.

The acrobatics of Bethlehem Steel had little effect on the general market. Prices held firm during the first hour. After selling up to 145 Bethlehem encountered real selling and dropped to 131. Maxwell Motors was strong, advancing 2 1/2 to 56.

Noon.—Just before noon heavy selling caused a reaction, but good buying on the decline in leading issues gave renewed strength.

The market retained its strength in the early afternoon even though activity fell off. Business appeared to have dropped into the inactive class.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, April 14.—After a rather nervous start with prices first sharply higher and then lower, wheat finally steadied at figures that were well above yesterday's close. Opening trades, based on higher cables, persistent talk of remote peace and knowledge of the sale of more than a million bushels of wheat at the seaboard late yesterday were responsible for today's upward trend.

What little activity there was in corn today sympathized with the movement of wheat prices. There was some scattered buying. Prices were well up nearly all day over yesterday's close.

Prices were lower for oats today at the start. Later, the strength in the other cereals had its effect and prices advanced.

Provisions opened lower on larger receipts. Later there was enough buying to result in noticeable advances on the opening.

MILWAUKEE, April 14. — Mrs. Helen Clarke believes she has discovered the real "meanest man." In her suit for divorce yesterday she alleged that her husband, J. T. The Good Old Sandman is Very Old.

Daddy's Bedtime

Where the Sandman Gets His Sand.

"WELL, kiddies, are you ready for the story before the sandman comes?" asked daddy.

"Who is the sandman, daddy?" cried the children.
"Well," said daddy, "I imagine that this old gentleman who puts the sand on the eyes of little children and puts them to sleep is a nice, grandfatherly looking old fellow with whiskers. He looks something like pictures you have seen of Father Time, the old man with the scythe, only instead of the scythe he has a great big bag of sand. It has to be a very big bag, you know, because there are so many, many children to be put to sleep every night."

"This old man, who is very kind and nice, just works in the early evening, and he must travel very fast, for he has a lot of ground to cover and a lot of children to see. And when he is through with them he must have to sleep the rest of the night himself, for by the next daytime he must be busy again at the other side of the world, dropping sand in the eyes of the little Chinese babies, for, you see, children, when it is day with us it is night with them."

"But where does the old man get the sand, daddy?" asked Jack, with his eyes very round.

"Well," said daddy, "I think he must go down to the seashore for it just before dusk, and he scoops his great big bag full of the beautiful, fine, yellow sand. And he has a great big pair of wings, you better believe, and he flies very fast from house to house and sprinkles his sand in the eyes of the children, and they go fast asleep."

"The good old sandman is very old, for he has worked that way from the time of the first children. Cain and Abel and their little sister that we are not told about, but know they must have had one, used to be visited by the sandman, and he has been busy ever since. I imagine that then he must have been very young and handsome, but that was very long ago, and now he must look much like Methuselah, only older."

"Nobody knows where the sandman sleeps himself, for, of course, nobody can see him. But he must sleep somewhere, for he works so very hard."

"I would like to see him some time," said Evelyn, "but I suppose he is a sort of fairy."

"Can you imagine a fairy with white whiskers?" laughed daddy. "Well, the sandman's working now, but you can't see him. Jack is rubbing his eyes. Run to beddie, kiddies."

DOUBLE DARED

BY MARY MARSHALL

(Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

"It's such a bore not to have coffee."

Tom Blake drew a long puff from his cigarette and then wearily watched the smoke as it circled over

Julia's head. It had come to be a matter of fact for Tom and Julia Dawson to come off like this at the Blair parties and pass an hour in quiet in the broad sweeping veranda overlooking the sea.

"But no one has coffee at dances in July," Julia did not look at Tom, though in the light that shone from the house she could have seen that he was looking absently out toward the breakers.

"Still it's stupid not to have coffee when you want it," Tom persisted.

Julia sat up erect and looked at Tom with the frankness of old acquaintance, the result of a friendship that had lasted from the days when Julia and Tom both left college several years before. "You are getting to be a miserable, grumpy old bachelor, Tom Blake. To sit and fume because you can't have coffee just when you want it, and to prefer to sit here, anyway, when there is music and dancing and life and happiness inside—Tom it's dreadful. Why, five years ago, if you had been out here with me you would be fanning me or at least looking at me once in a while, and you would be telling me stories and jokes and quoting Kipling, and trying in a dozen different ways to entertain me. But now you just sit and complain about not having what you want when you want it."

"And you would have been giggling like a debutante yourself, and fluttering and smiling and toying with your fan and the pearls around your neck. On the whole, I like you better now."

"Absurd!" Julia was positive. "How can you say that when you know that in those days you—"

"Go on! Say it!" said Tom, meditating over another curl of cigarette smoke. "I was rather in love with you then, sent you flowers and wrote letters every day and was fool enough to think you'd marry me some time. But when a man is as old as I am he doesn't delude himself so easily. It's a case of taking the gifts the gods provide, now. However, I wish the Blairs would serve coffee. Who wants an ice without coffee even in July?"

"And you are miserable just because they didn't happen to have it. Why don't you go down to the hotel and get some if that is the way you feel?" If any one were to be at our cottage I'd ask you to come down now. Coffee is very simply concocted."

"I dare you, Julia," Tom tossed his cigarette off the veranda and stood beside her. "Don't refuse a dare, do you? I double dare you to let me go home with you now and make it. Remember how I used to dare you—dared you to kiss me once at our junior prom, and you were too good a sport to refuse. But kissing's gone out of fashion now, Julia. I triple dare you to make the coffee."

Julia mused for a minute with half closed eyes. "I'd accept the dare if it weren't that there is no one in our cottage. The maids have gone to the village and mother is in town and Dora is dancing. I couldn't drag a sister in her first season away from a dance at 12. I have the key to the cottage with me, but I can't go home with you alone. You know how people would talk. They would find out somehow."

"Double, double dare you," teased Tom. "I must have coffee."

A minute later Julia, her light evening cape thrown around her shoulders, stole down the veranda steps with Tom. A group of dancers, warm with the exertions of the last trot, came on the veranda just in time to see them go. "It's Tom Blake," some one said. "And Julia!" It was Julia's sister speaking. "Wonder where they are going!"

But Tom and Julia did not hear them and as they hurried along the beach toward Julia's cottage a spirit of real adventure quickened the girl's pulses and brought color to her cheeks.

Just as they turned into the pathway that led into the cottage two neighbors passed. "It's Julia," one said, "and that Mr. Blake. No one's in the cottage either. Funny of Julia to be there alone, and that Blake they say used to be in love with her once." Julia was fumbling with the key and did not hear this, but Tom caught it.

Once in the house Julia dropped her wrap and started toward the dining room. "Oh, forget the coffee!" Tom called after her. "That walk down here was all the bracer I needed. I didn't really mean that I was going to let you go to all that trouble."

It was perhaps because Julia turned and smiled over her shoulder as she hurried on to the dining room, and partly because the remark of the

Standard Remedy For Many Homes

Indigestion and constipation are two conditions closely related and the cause of much physical suffering.

The tendency to indulge one's appetite is general, so that most people suffer at some time or another from rebellion of the overtaxed organs of digestion and elimination. A simple, pleasantly effective remedy that will quickly relieve the congestion of poisonous waste and restore regularity, is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a mild, pleasant laxative and is free from opiates or narcotic drugs and has been the standard household remedy in countless homes for many years. "Wonder where they are going!"

But Tom and Julia did not hear them and as they hurried along the beach toward Julia's cottage a spirit of real adventure quickened the girl's pulses and brought color to her cheeks.

Just as they turned into the pathway that led into the cottage two neighbors passed. "It's Julia," one said, "and that Mr. Blake. No one's in the cottage either. Funny of Julia to be there alone, and that Blake they say used to be in love with her once." Julia was fumbling with the key and did not hear this, but Tom caught it.

Once in the house Julia dropped her wrap and started toward the dining room. "Oh, forget the coffee!" Tom called after her. "That walk down here was all the bracer I needed. I didn't really mean that I was going to let you go to all that trouble."

It was perhaps because Julia turned and smiled over her shoulder as she hurried on to the dining room, and partly because the remark of the neighbor had brought back a flood of old recollections, that Tom rushed forward and caught Julia in his arms. But it was a very different Julia from the Julia he had kissed in his college days. She had been frightened and happy then. Now she was apparently unmoved. She drew away almost in anger.

"Tom!" There was deep reproach in her tone. "How could you?"

"But you used to let me. You know how you protested that night when we left college and didn't think we'd see each other for a whole long month afterward. But you yielded and then you cried in my arms at the thought of the separation. And now I am away from you a whole winter at a time and you don't give me a thought." He caught her again and kissed her as if none of the four intervening years had cooled his ardor.

Julia struggled against his arms: "It is unfair," she told him. "I accepted your dare thinking that you gave it in good faith, and now I find that it was just a ruse. Please go away at once. I don't mind being left here alone, but I refuse to stay alone with you. I'll tell my sister when she comes that I was tired, and that you took me home. I am afraid that someone saw us as it is. It was a foolish venture."

"What if they did see? They could only think that I wanted to take you off by yourself where I could kiss you and tell you that I love you. What if they do think that?"

"But how unfair of you to suggest it just because I thought you wanted coffee and all the time you were planning—"

Tom drew the girl's slender figure toward him. "Julia, I didn't plan anything. I didn't dream I'd kiss you. I was a crusty old bachelor when I was at the Blair's. Coffee was the most important thing in life at that time. I'd forgotten the joy of touching your lips to mine. But it all came back in a flood of recollection. Julia, I think that the neighbors will talk about us. I think it will be all over the place, the scandal of the summer. In fact, I heard some one starting the gossip as we came in. Julia you are dreadfully compromised—that is what they say, isn't it? You have been very indiscreet to let me come in this empty house with you, Julia." Tom was standing with his hands on Julia's shoulders holding her at arm's length from him. "Julia, the only square thing for me to do now is to insist on marrying you. That is the sort of talk that the part requires, isn't it?"

"You are laughing at me." It was the old Julia and her cheeks were warm and her eyes had their old expectancy as Tom drew her to him again.

"I am in earnest, too," said Tom. "The old days have come back and we're going to start out where we left off and forget about the coffee and the grumpy old bachelor down at Blair's."

Check Girl Says She Will Expose the "Tip Trust"

Pretty "Coin Magnet" Who Was Discharged, Says Three Men Net $100,000 Yearly From Concessions in Big Hotels

CHICAGO, April 14.—It's time the gullible public was tipped off to what goes with the dimes and quarters it pays to have its hats and coats checked, according to Mary Hudwagner, coin magnet, who today came to the front as Joan of Arc to a long suffering public. She announced she would file suit for $10,000 against the "tipping trust" and expose its methods for ousting her from her stand in the Cafe du Lac.

The "trust," she says, is composed of three men—Bernard Neuberger, Jacques Rouso and Al Weisberg, and controls all but two of the big concessions in Chicago. She avers the trust pays the pretty check girls from $9 to $10 a week and takes the rest. The annual earnings of the trust, she says, is $100,000.

The trust, according to Mary, has concessions in New York, San Francisco, Detroit, Toledo, Louisville, Milwaukee and most of the Michigan summer resorts.

The trust pays the La Salle hotel a lazy, good-for-nothing just because in proportion, she says.

There is no chance to "knock down" on the trust, says Mary, for it provides the employees with skin tight suits with no pockets and high collars so tight that the thinnest dime would have to be swallowed to get it down the neck.

BE PRETTY! TURN GRAY HAIR DARK

Try Grandmother's old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this famous old recipe for about 50 cents.

Don't stay gray! Try it! No one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy.

Look Here, Kids! Doctor Says You Ought to Loaf

Illinois Physician Tells Congress of Parents that Poor Marks in School and Laziness Mean Normal Growth

CHICAGO, April 14.—This is a story for the kids. It ought to please 'em provided it can get by ma's and pa's censorship.

In the first place a fellow's dad has no right to bawl him out if he exhibits laziness about the time coal ought to be brought up from the cellar. And you, Susie, needn't pay much attention to ma, when she calls you $7,000 a year, and other big hotels you hate the sight of a dishpan or a broom. Here's why:

A man named Lindsay Wynekoop—he's a doctor and ought to know—told a lot of folks at the Illinois congress of mothers and parent-teacher associations that young folks—boys and girls between ten and sixteen—ought to sleep a lot. He said laziness was a good sign they were growing. And, besides that he said poor marks in school at that time weren't so awful as parents were wont to believe. He said laziness and drowsiness and sleepiness helped kids throw off poisons in their systems.

Might be a good plan for you kids to cut this out and flash it on ma or pa at the right time.

There are acres of diamonds everywhere, but no ordinary or half hearted effort will uncover them.

GERMAN AIRMEN ACTIVE AND TOWN IS BOMBARDED

PARIS, April 14.—A Zeppelin dropped explosives on the old French town of Bailleul, eight miles northwest of Arras, killing three civilians, according to an official statement from the war office today that noted increased activity on the part of the emperor's airmen. The Zeppelin aimed its bombs at the French aviation camp at Bailleul, the war office announced, but all the missiles went astray.

A German airman was forced to descend inside the allied lines near Braine and another at Luneville.

Both aviators were made prisoners. In the valley of the Orne river, north of Verdun, another German birdman fell from a great height and was killed.

BOAT SINKS JUST AS HUMAN CARGO LANDS ON DOCK

Leaking Excursion Steamer Monarch Races to Wharf and Disappears Shortly Afterwards

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 14.—Sinking rapidly while men, women and children passengers fought for life preservers, the excursion steamer Monarch early today raced toward shore in San Pablo bay through the inky night. The sixty-five passengers and the crew had barely been landed safely over improvised gangways after the ship went ashore off the Selby Landing when she slipped back into deep water and sank out of sight.

The Monarch was discovered to be leaking badly while steaming through the dangerous Carquinez Straits. The captain at once made for the shore. While part of the crew manned the pumps in a vain effort to stem the rushing waters, the others fought with the passengers to prevent them jumping overboard.

INDUSTRIAL SAFETY IS PROMOTED BY STATE COMMISSION

Pamphlet Urging "Safety First" and Citing Instances of Avoidable Accidents Is Issued

MADISON, Wis., April 14.—While inspecting a woodworking plant a Wisconsin industrial commission deputy found a square-headed jointer. He ordered the installation of a safety head. The owner said: "I have no employees; this plant belongs to me and my brother and no one else is allowed to use this jointer. It has been in just that condition for over twenty years, and neither of us has received a scratch from it. We will not install a circular head until we have to."

"In less than ten days after this conversation this same man was caught in the jointer knives, and four fingers were cut off. He then complained because the deputy had not forced him to install a round head immediately."

This is only one of several instances related in a new pamphlet issued by the Wisconsin industrial commission under the title "Wisconsin's Movement for Industrial Safety."

Safety First Pamphlet

The pamphlet is issued in response to a growing demand for information about the state's work in the reduction of industrial accidents. The bulletin not only relates the results of the safety campaign which began in 1911 but goes into the philosophy and theory behind the Wisconsin safety movement. The subject is not treated exclusively from a Wisconsin standpoint but is looked at in its national aspect. Quotations from prominent writers on the subject are scattered throughout the sixteen pages of the pamphlet.

"During the year 1914," says the bulletin, "about 12,000 accidents causing disability of more than one week, occurred in the 10,000 factories and workshops of Wisconsin. In this one year 163 men were killed. The total of industry upon human lives, human resources and happiness is appalling. Our problem is to reduce the losses and suffering due to accidents. The size of the establishment or the nature of the industry is of little significance. All factories may cause accidents. The hazard differs only in degree. To protect our workmen, each place and each danger point in each place must be safeguarded. The single unguarded belt of a thousand may be the cause of maiming or killing a man; the fact that an unguarded set screw has not caused a single injury during a hundred years is no security that it will never entangle the clothes of an unfortunate victim, wind him around the shaft and add one more to the list of fatal accidents."

It's Never Too Late

"To the factory owner who has been in business twenty years and has never had an accident on that 'harmless little gear,' an order to guard it seems ridiculous and absurd. But during the past year those same little gears killed one man, caused two men to lose a hand, five to lose an arm, one to lose a foot, thirty-five to lose fingers, and injured seventy-three others less seriously."

"Many of the large employers have adopted proper means of educating their employees and instructing them in accident prevention. The education of workmen—teaching them to be careful, and arousing their interest in the safety movement—has achieved marvelous results. It has brought about great reductions of accidents wherever employed. One manufacturer in Wisconsin reduced his accidents 75 per cent the first year, and two-thirds of this reduction he attributes directly to the educating of his men. Reductions ranging from 30 per cent to 60 per cent experienced during the first few years of safety work, are common."

The bulletin tells in detail the methods of shop organization for the prevention of accidents and gives figures showing the gratifying results obtained from such organizations.

TERRE HAUTE POLITICIANS STAY IN JAIL LACKING BOND

Believed that Mayor Roberts and His Crew Will Not Be Able to Obtain Freedom Pending Appeal

INDIANAPOLIS, April 14.—District Attorney Frank C. Dailey said that no bonds had been presented for his approval for the convicted and sentenced Terre Haute politicians being held in the Marion county jail.

The impression prevailed today that Mayor Donn M. Roberts, sentenced to serve six years in Leavenworth and to pay a fine of $2,000, would be unable to provide the $60,000 appeal bond because of the $12,000 deposit demanded by the surety company.

Five convicted men have had their fines reduced by Judge A. B. Anderson, it became known today. They are John Masselink, George Sovern, Joe O'Mara, Joe Strouse and Arthur Gillis. Their fines were reduced from $100 to $1, but they still must serve one year and a day in Leavenworth.

War Office News of Fighting

PARIS, April 14.—For the first time since the campaign against the St. Mihiel wedge was launched the official communique from the war office this afternoon contained no mention at all of the operations. The communique merely announced that there was calm along the entire battle front yesterday.

BERLIN.

BERLIN, via wireless to London, April 14.—The French have renewed their furious attacks against both sides of the German wedge in the St. Mihiel region, the war office announced this afternoon.

The enemy's onslaughts have been most violent on the north side of the wedge between Malzeville and Marcheville, east of Verdun. The war office admitted that French infantry penetrated the German positions along a narrow front near Marcheville. Reinforcements were brought up and the Germans recaptured the positions.

Other strong attacks in this same region broke down as German artillery tore great gaps in the advancing lines.

On the south side of the wedge, extending from St. Mihiel to Pont-a-Mousson, the French evidently have been greatly reinforced. In three separate charges the enemy in vain attempted to take strong German positions in the Ailly forest, southeast of St. Mihiel.

On the high road leading from Essex to Flirey, west of Pont-a-Mousson, another French force spent itself in an attempt to gain ground. The Germans had erected barricades along the road and their rapid-firers dealt out death from behind these fortifications.

Fighting has been resumed in Alsace, southwest of Colmar.

WINDOW SMASHERS ESCAPE IN BATTLE

WATERLOO, Iowa, April 14.—Three burglars at 4 o'clock this morning hurled bricks through the plate glass window of the S. Joseph's Sons' jewelry store, where diamonds and other jewelry was on display. They grabbed one handful of diamonds valued at $400, but before they could secure more police who heard the crash arrived and a running revolver battle took place, the robbers escaping with their loot.

Turks Report That British Cruiser and Torpedo Boat Are Damaged by Dardanelles Land Forces

NO COMMENT FOR ADMIRALTY

Reports from Asiatic Points However Indicate That Bombardment Was Resumed on Large Scale

LONDON, April 14.—Two allied warships were severely damaged by fire from the Turkish forts in the bombardment of the Dardanelles on Monday, according to dispatches from Constantinople today, passed by the press bureau as without confirmation. A British cruiser, the Turkish war office announced, was hit by several shells and a torpedo boat was damaged. The admiralty has issued no statement regarding the bombardment. The official statement from Constantinople and unofficial reports from Sofia and the Island of Tenedos indicate that the attack was resumed on a larger scale than has been developed since the sinking of three allied battleships on March 18.

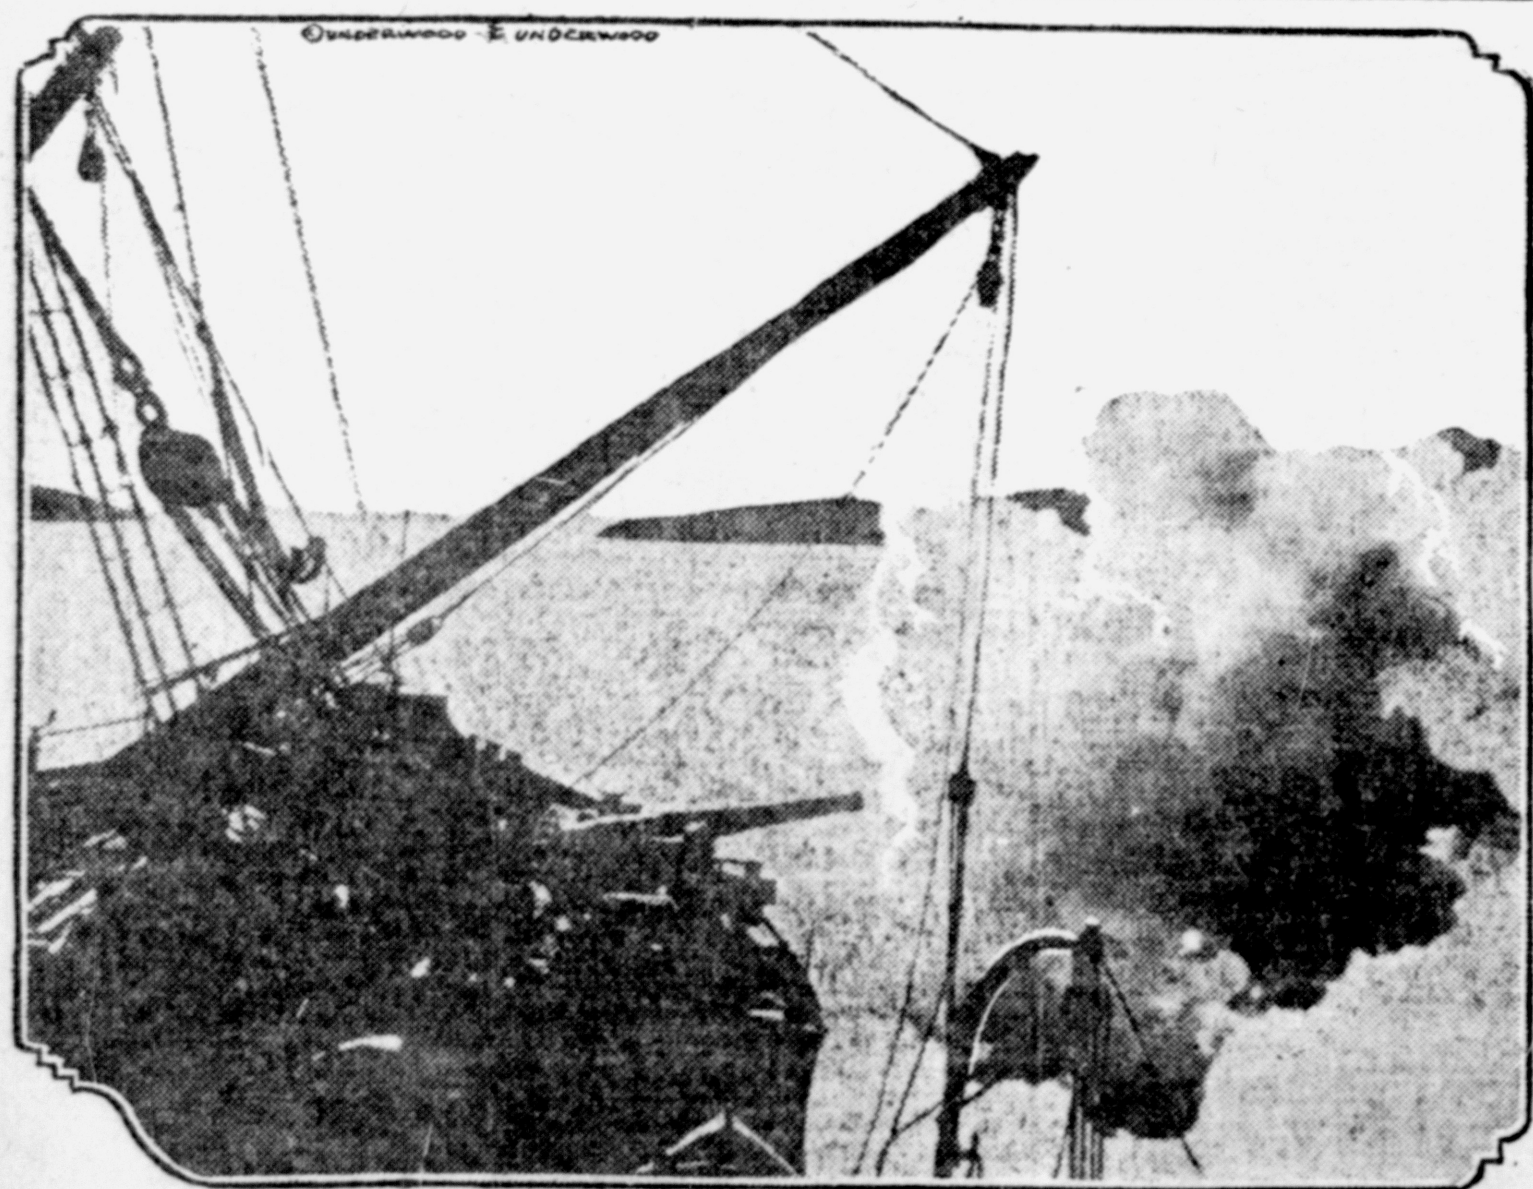

The Turkish war office announces that several enemy ships participated in the bombardment. The attack was entirely unsuccessful, according to the Turks.

A dispatch from the Island of Tenedos mentioned only two warships as participating in the Monday attack. The British destroyer Renard ran past the Turkish forts at high speed, penetrating ten miles inside the strait, according to the Tenedos dispatch. The battleship London followed, drawing most of the fire of the Asiatic batteries, those on the European shore remaining silent. The Triumph bombarded a battery on Saturday, but drew no response, according to information at Tenedos.

In the bombardment of the Dardanelles the allies are making use of all available vessels. Merchantmen have been pressed into the service and armed with smaller guns for the purpose of fighting close to the shore and dislodging the Turks from their temporary earth defenses. Under the protection of the guns from the big ships they have been able to do this work very effectively and with small danger to themselves. The picture shows one of these converted merchantmen sending over a broadside at the Turkish defenses on the shore.

MITCHELL CHUCKS FOR GIANTS

Clear Skies Promise Ideal Weather for the Ground-warming Festivities

BY HAL SHERIDAN
(Written for the United Press.)
NEW YORK, April 14.—Old Sol beamed down from a cloudless sky today, indicating that fair weather would be on tap in the east when the getaway going rings this afternoon in the American and National leagues. Everything is all set around both circles for an auspicious inauguration of the 1915 season.

Up at the Polo grounds in Harlem the two ancient enemies in the National league—the Giants and the Dodgers—will mix. Jeff Tesreau, the mighty bear hunter of the McGraw clan, is slated to oppose Jeff Pfeffer, who last year earned the title of the Giant killer, on the pitching mound.

Mayor Mitchell, of course, will do the honor at the Polo grounds. He is due to hurl the first ball at 3:30 o'clock.

CHICAGO, April 14.—Jim Vaughn against either Willie Doak or Slim Sallee were the sacrifices for the opening of the National league season between the Cubs and Cards here today.

CINCINNATI, Ohio, April 14.—It looked like veteran against veteran twirler when the Reds and Pirates hooked up here in the first game today. Ames was slated to twirl for the Reds and Charles Adams for the Pirates. Perfect weather promised a crowd of at least 25,000 at the opener.

DETROIT, Mich., April 14.—With indications pointing to a crowd of 20,000, Tigers and Indians will lift the baseball lid here today. Fair, cool weather prevailed. No ceremonies were scheduled except the hurling of the first ball by Mayor Marx.

Covaleski for Detroit and Steen or Mitchell for Cleveland were the pitching selections.

BOSTON, Mass., April 14.—The champion Braves pranced out on the field this afternoon and with the help of Philadelphia started the 1915 ball season rolling. The weather was clear and cool.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., April 14.—Mayor Blankenburg will toss the leather pellet which will start hostilities in the American league pennant race at Shibe park this afternoon when the Athletics and Boston Red Sox clash.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., April 14.—Laudermilk and Severid will be the Browns' battery here against the Sox. Manager Rowland plans to use Scott and Schank.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Wilson, scheduled to toss the

DRESS WARM AND KEEP FEET DRY

Tells Rheumatism Sufferers to Take Salts and Get Rid of Uric Acid.

Rheumatism is no respecter of age, sex, color or rank. If not the most dangerous of human afflictions it is one of the most painful. Those subject to rheumatism should eat least meat, dress as warmly as possible, avoid any undue exposure and, above all, drink lots of pure water.

Rheumatism is caused by uric acid which is generated in the bowels and absorbed into the blood. It is the function of the kidneys to filter this acid from the blood and cast it out in the urine; the pores of the skin are also a means of freeing the blood of this impurity. In damp and chilly, cold weather the skin pores are closed thus forcing the kidneys to do double work, they become weak and sluggish and fail to eliminate this uric acid which keeps accumulating and circulating through the system, eventually settling in the joints and muscles causing stiffness, soreness and pain called rheumatism.

At the first twinge of rheumatism get from any pharmacy about four ounces of Jad Salts; put a tablespoonful in a glass of water and drink before breakfast each morning for a week. This is said to eliminate uric acid by stimulating the kidneys to normal action, thus ridding the blood of these impurities.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless and is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and is used with excellent results by thousands of folks who are subject to rheumatism. Here you have a pleasant, effervescent lithia water drink which overcomes uric acid and is beneficial to your kidneys as well. For sale by Chas. Beyschlag, druggist, 503 Main street.

BURKE TELLS OF CASE THAT LED WILLARD TO CHALLENGE JOHN HART

"Wait until Jess Willard and John Hart hook up about Christmas time," was the salutation offered today by C. E. Burke, Lexingtonian, who was the biggest rooter for Willard during the recent championship fight at Havana in which Jack Johnson lost his laurels. The remark, which came strangely to the TRIBUNE sport editor, he proceeded to explain.

"You see," the Willard man went on, "three years ago, before Jess had gained much of a name in the ring outside of his county of Pottawatomie, Kan., a big burly Kansan by the name of John Hart once gained a decision over him in Elk City, Okla. The decision was unfair and Hart was forced by public sentiment to leave the country. I guess the referee went with him."

"For several years Jess heard and saw nothing of him. After the fight at Havana a week ago Monday, when Jess was passing through Brunswick, Ga., who should step up to him but Hart, bigger than ever and in the garb of a policeman? He had known that Jess was going through there on his way to New York and he was there to give him the glad hand. Well, to Jess it was a big surprise for he had never dreamed of seeing Hart again."

"And then the surprise came for Hart. A few moments chat while the train stopped and Willard shot the remark, 'Do you remember that time out in Kansas when you robbed me of a decision?' To Hart's answer 'Yes' he shot this in, 'Well, I am going to give you the first championship fight.'"

"If the two get into the ring it will be giant against giant. Hart is a man six feet and four inches in height, weighing 264 pounds. With Jess, there would be nigh thirteen feet and about five hundred pounds of humanity in the ring. I am looking for a definite announcement of the fight soon. And if they go, it will be SOME fight."

RICH AND FLYNN HANDED BEATINGS

NEW YORK, April 14.—Two possible opponents for Jess Willard, new heavyweight champion, received severe setbacks here last night. Al Reich, the Adonis of the ring, was clearly outpointed in a ten round set-to with Porky Flynn, Boston veteran. Gunboat Smith took a ten round lacing from Charley Weinert, Jersey heavy middleweight.

MINNEAPOLIS ORCHESTRA

CARRIES ITS OWN ARTISTS

Most of Soloists at Famous Sunday "Pops" This Year Were Members of Organization's Own Roster

Not many symphony orchestras of this country contain the number of solo artists among its members as does the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra, which together with its famous conductor, Emil Oberhofer, is to appear in the music festival at the Normal.

A great feature of the Minneapolis concert season are the twenty-one popular Sunday afternoon concerts given by the Minneapolis organization. Artists from all over the country are engaged as soloists but this years the number of outside artists was greatly reduced on account of the number of artists in the orchestra who appeared. They were Richard Czerwonky, violinist and concertmaster; George Klass, second concertmaster; Adolphe Dumont and Franz Dicks, violinists; Karl Scheurer, viola; Cornelius Van Vliet and Paulo Gruppe, cellists; Frank Kucynka, contra-bass; Leonardo de Lorenzo, flute; Bruno Labate, oboe; Pierre Perrier, clarinet; Richard Lindenhahn, French horn; and Henry J. Williams, harp.

No other orchestra in the country has made a showing like this and the reason for it is quite obvious.

Probably the snob is impressed with the number of people eager to make his acquaintance.

"The Wonder Car"

This is the car that 38,000 happy owners have given the "rough and tumble" acid test of real automobile owners' wear

An automobile on the road for 18 months in constant, every-day use by an owner ceases to be a designer's theory.

It becomes—either a great automobile success;
Or it becomes—a great automobile failure.

Multiply one model by 38,000 and give each one of these 38,000 automobiles day in and day out rough and tumble road wear, and if this car stands up and delivers, it has become one of the rare great automobile successes.

And that is the Maxwell success today—that is exactly the "Acid Test" that the Maxwell has passed through, and that is why the Maxwell is the most talked about automobile that is built today.

The Maxwell automobile is today one of the very few great automobile successes the world has ever known.

And this is the car we urge you to see. This is the car that you owe it to yourself to see. We want to tell you about its hill climbing triumphs. We want to tell you about its speed and endurance records. We want to show you and add up for you every one of its new features.

Read This List of Expensive Features. The 1915 Maxwell Has These Features And Many Others.

PURE STREAMLINE BODY

A large, roomy, beautiful body, fitted with deep, comfortable upholstery, ample leg room, adjustable front seat and the best fourteen-coat, hand-painted and striped finish. All Maxwell bodies are constructed of pressed steel, mounted on a steel-channel sectioned frame, offering the greatest possible strength with minimum weight.

SPRING SUSPENSION

Without a doubt you will find the Maxwell the easiest riding, light car made. With its ample sufficient wheel base, and semi-elliptic front springs and three-quarter elliptic rear springs, built of the very best of spring steels, the Maxwell cushions its passengers from all the jars and bumps of rough roads. It is so comfortable and easy riding that you will remark the difference on your first ride.

THE POWERFUL MAXWELL MOTOR

The most powerful, durable motor of its size made. Ample power to negotiate any road, mud, sand or hill—always at your command. Almost troubleproof, every part accessible, and what is more, it is a motor of genuine economy. More miles per gallon, day in and day out, than you would believe possible if one were to tell you. The Maxwell motor stands to-day one of the very best in dependable efficiency.

DOUBLE SHELL RADIATOR

A beautiful, troubleproof, highly efficient radiator. Every part but the shell constructed of high-grade copper. It will not corrode and leak. Protected against breakage by a heavy pressed steel shell and special shock-absorbing devices on each side of the frame that protects it against the many strains and twists of the car.

THE STEERING GEAR

Irreversible worm and gear, the only safe steering device. Maxwell uses a gear instead of a sector. This makes adjustment very simple, as you have merely to turn the gear one-quarter way and you have a new surface, just as good as a complete new steering unit.

BRAKES THAT HOLD AND LAST

One square inch of braking surface to every twelve pounds of weight. That's more than most any other car gives to-day. Maxwell brakes are thoroughly dependable, enclosed and protected from dust and dirt, and have special anti-rattling devices. Maxwell brakes are very easy to handle. The slightest pressure of the foot and your car comes to a dead stop.

The Maxwell Company's Guarantee of Service to Maxwell Owners

No other automobile is backed by a more reliable service than that guaranteed every Maxwell owner. More than 2,000 Maxwell dealers—in every part of this country—are always ready to give expert advice, to make adjustments, and to supply new parts at reasonable prices. This splendid Maxwell dealer service organization is perfected and completed by the chain of Maxwell owned and Maxwell operated Service Branches. ### MANAGER OVERCOMES JEALOUSY OF STARS

Professional jealousy doubtless exists in all lines of endeavor, but the theatrical profession takes the palm in this respect, and the manager who successfully can cope with this trait must indeed be a genius. The producer of the screen version of Lillian Russell's old time play "Wildfire" is evidently a past-master in the art of handling theatrical stars. His achievement was nothing less than marvelous in that he has succeeded in bringing together on one program four stars of the first magnitude, three of them stars of the legitimate stage, and one of them a star of the screen, and he has subordinated three of them to the fourth one. In the cast of "Wildfire" we see Lillian Russell, Lionel Barrymore, Wm. Riley Hatch and Glen White, and the name of one alone is featured on the advertisement.

ing matter. Lillian Russell stands in the limelight while the names of the other stars are not made to appear at all. Mr. Wm. Riley Hatch will be remembered for his splendid work as Captain Williams in "Paid in Full." The name of Lionel Barrymore is a household word when theatrical merit is mentioned, while Glen White for years has been recognized as one of the foremost stars of the screen. It is seldom such a galaxy of stars is seen working together in one picture. "Wildfire" will be shown again today at the Casino.

Restorative Treatment for Nervous Men

Coming from a source of unquestioned authority on the ailments of men it is presumed to be infallible, while the profession generally endorse the ingredients and prescribe them in many different forms of various diseases. The following formula is highly efficient in quickly restoring in nervous exhaustion, melancholia, anxiety, timidity in venturing, dizziness, heart palpitation, trembling limbs, insomnia, thinness, cold extremities, tired-all-in feeling and general inability to do those natural and rational acts upon which depends a man's success and happiness in social and every-day life.

The instructions for mixing at home secretly so that no embarrassment may be felt, are as follows: First get three ounces of syrup sarsaparilla compound and one ounce compound fluid balmwort; mix and let stand two hours. Then add one ounce compound essence cardiol and one ounce tincture cadomene compound (not cardamon), and mix all together. The directions are to take one teaspoonful after each meal and one when retiring, until bounding health and full strength are restored. Even a few weeks will witness most wonderful results.

DYING PHYSICIAN PLANS FOR FUTURE

CHICAGO, April 14.—Dr. Clarence H. Wall and his wife had a long talk today, planning the wife's future and the future of their little boy. Dr. Wall doesn't expect to have a place in the future of either, only as a memory. It is his own judgment and the judgment of several other physicians that he cannot live more than two or three days at most.

Dr. Wall is a police ambulance surgeon. A month ago while administering an injection to a tubercular patient, Wall pricked his finger. Blood poison has developed. Symptoms of failure of the heart action began to be noticed today.

Unpopular Listeners.

"I really dislike to talk to her; she has such a habit of finishing one's sentences for one. You know the kind?" "Yes; they listen faster than you can talk to them."

NO RECONCILIATION TRAGEDY FOLLOWS

CHICAGO, April 14.—Walter and Louise Baranek had been married four years. From his electrician's salary, Baranek had put by enough to make first payment for a home. A dispute over its location arose. The couple separated three weeks ago. Early today Baranek went to see his wife at her sister's home in Irving Park, to ask forgiveness and plead for re-establishment of their household. The girl refused.

Baranek whipped out a revolver and fired three bullets into his wife's body. Then he killed himself. His wife is expected to recover. He was 23; she is 22.

NEGRO SINGERS DRAW BIG CROWD AT NORMAL SCHOOL

Hampton Institute's Work Is Described by S. D. Dodd Who Tells of Uplift of the Negro Race

Negro plantation songs—the melodies of fifty years ago and the folk-songs of the south—were sung by a Hampton Institute students' quartet at the La Crosse state normal school last night as never heard here before.

S. D. Dodd, member of the Hampton faculty accompanying the quartette, addressed the large audience while moving pictures of the institution and of varied scenes of plantation life in the south were shown. Interspersed with the pictures, which took the audience through the different departments of the one hundred and seventy buildings of the college, were the songs.

Booker Washington's School Hampton institute is situated at Hampton, Va., and is one of the greatest colleges in the United States. It is devoted almost entirely to the uplift of the negro race, although Indians are tutored there. Booker T. Washington, famous negro orator, is a product of the school, which has for its aim the repopulation of the south with a higher class of negro than existed at the close of the civil war. That the institution is accomplishing its aim was shown by the scores of homes through the south presided over by graduates of the school.

Richness of harmony combined with the characteristic negro melody and the swing of the old negro songs made the musical program one of the enjoyable entertainments at the normal school this season.

CUPID GRABS HIM SO FRED L. HOLMES HAS A WEDDING

MADISON, Wis., April 14.—(Special.)—Former Assemblyman Fred L. Holmes of this city was married this morning to Miss Helen D. Pollack by Rev. P. B. Knox. The ceremony was performed at St. Patrick's Catholic church at 6:30 o'clock after which a wedding breakfast was served in their new home at 2233 Monroe street. Miss Pollack was accompanied by Miss Olive K. Parsons as bridesmaid, and Charles O'Brien, manager of the Postal Telegraph company, acted as best man.

Miss Pollack is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Pollack of this city. Mr. Holmes came to this city twelve years ago to attend the university. Since graduation he has been engaged in newspaper work and for several years was business manager of Senator La Follette's magazine.

After the wedding breakfast Mr. and Mrs. Holmes left for a brief visit to Chicago and other cities.

DOPE SUBSTITUTE KILLS ITS USER

NEW YORK, April 14.—A new drug puzzle confronted the police today, with the death of one man and the collapse of another due to a mysterious substitute for cocaine, which has almost disappeared from the illicit market because of the activities of the authorities under the Harrison law.

Two known drug users, seen staggering along 104th street, were accosted by a detective. One of the pair, Charles Hunt, fell unconscious to the pavement, dying almost immediately. The other told of purchasing mysterious brown pills offered as a substitute for cocaine. The seller has escaped arrest.

SURE WAY TO GET RID OF BLACKHEADS

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads and that is to dissolve them.

To do this get about two ounces of plain powdered norexin from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin—pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get them out after they become hard. The powdered norexin and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anybody troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

NO PEACE OFFERS MADE SAYS WILSON

President Says He Has Received No Definite Proposals from Vatican or Belligerents

WASHINGTON, April 14.—President Wilson has received no definite proposal from the pope, he told callers today, relative to an endeavor to restore peace in Europe.

Several persons authorized to speak for the vatican have assured him, he stated, however, that when the time comes for action, his holiness will gladly co-operate.

The president admitted that not a single concrete suggestion has reached him to justify a belief that any of the belligerents is anxious to consider terms.

A patriarch living with his sixth wife should devote very little time to arguing against Mormonism.

CARDINALS TO JOIN IN BIG "GABFEST" AT MINNESOTA

MADISON, Wis., April 14.—(Special.)—With a vital question, affecting the grain and livestock interests of both states, before them for discussion the twelve speakers representing the agricultural colleges of Minnesota and Wisconsin are prepared for their second annual interstate debate, which occurs jointly at Minneapolis and Madison, April 16.

The question, "Resolved, that the Federal Government should own and operate all steam railroads, (constitutionality conceded)," is one of the great interest to agricultural workers, as well as merchants and manufacturers, involving as it does problems of rates, service and equipment.

Lime and Tuberculosis

Dr. Roberts Bartholow, former professor in Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia, and widely famed as a medical writer, says in the eighth edition of his authoritative Medical Media (1895), on pages 215 and 216:

"Clinical experience has shown that it (referring to a calcium salt) possesses the ill-defined property known as alterative, removes certain toxic or morbid materials and secures their secretion by the organs of elimination. . . . The testimony which has lately been published in respect to its curative powers in consumption is certainly very striking."

Of course, he does not refer to testimony published regarding results obtained through the use of Eckman's Alternative, since the medical profession makes it a rule never publicly to recommend proprietary remedies.

However, there is a large accumulation of such testimony, covering many cases of consumption and allied throat and bronchial affections, which seem to have yielded completely to this remedy.

Doubtless this success is due largely to the fact that in Eckman's Alternative a calcium (lime) salt is so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the average person.

It contains neither opiates, narcotics nor habit-forming drugs; it is safe to take. Your druggist has it or will get it, or you can order direct.

MAYO BILL WILL AFFECT TEACHERS

Board of "U" Regents Will Prevent Teachers from Working Who Do Not Devote Whole Time

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 14.—(Special.)—If the legislature passes the bill prohibiting the affiliation of the university medical school with the Mayo foundation, it will prevent the board of regents from employing any teachers who do not give their whole time to the work.

This is the opinion of Pierce Butler, a leading St. Paul attorney and member of the board of regents, expressed at a hearing before the house university committee in the senate chamber Monday night as to the bill.
